RUSSIAN SITUATION PRECEDING GRAVE

Telegraphers Have Declared an International Strike.

SEBASTOPOL IS CUT OFF

At Capital Are Utterly In Dark—Workmen's Council May Another General Strike—No News from Sebastopol.

Sebastopol, Nov. 30.—The situation in Russia has suddenly grown exceedingly grave. The Russian capital is cut off from telegraphic communication with the interior. The Pan-Russian strike of the telegraph operators yesterday has gone into operation and the workmen's council is threatening whether to declare a general strike throughout Russia tomorrow, predicting this time the unwarranted arrest of the representatives of the peasants' congress at Moscow and also calling on the people to lock out the employers of St. Petersburg. It is reported that 70,000 men to be locked out.

The telegraph strike draws an immediate curtain between the capital and the provinces which in such a crisis is the position of the government most desperate as being in constant touch with the provinces and local authorities in the interior. If the telegraph strike can be maintained the government will be compelled to grope in the dark.

Employees of the offices have not been locked out, but they are expected to be today. Only two lines are in operation from St. Petersburg. Telegrams from Moscow which were expected to stop, say that the operators on the Siberian lines have all lines south, north and east now have struck.

Communication with Sebastopol and the Baltic provinces has ceased. The operators on the Baltic line have also struck. The telegraphers' strike is the direct result of the government's prohibiting the telegraph operators from joining a union which is attributed to M. Durnovo, minister of the interior, for whose office the radicals are working. The minister is reported to have discharged the leader of the Moscow union and yesterday the government sent a twelve hour ultimatum to M. Durnovo and Premier Stolypin demanding the reinstatement of the dismissed men and the withdrawal of the obnoxious circular. No answer has been forthcoming at the specified time and the strike was declared.

Telegraphers of Moscow after their keys held a meeting in the building and upon the advice of the police and the troops broke up the meeting they declared they would not disperse even if shot.

Sebastopol being cut off from telegraphic communication with the capital it is not known here whether the city has been surrendered or whether the Russian commander, General Neputneff, the commander of the city, has begun active operations.

Telegrams which came from Sebastopol announced that Sebastopol had been deserted except for the Russian garrison. The scared population fled in all directions, and Black Sea neighboring towns were filled with refugees. The streets of Sebastopol are reported as being flooded with troops and artillery and guns had been placed so as to command the city. The strong Russian garrison, while the Russian commander has been trained for the barracks. General Neputneff, the other military officers and the advice, were consulted. The view to working out a compromise by the Russian government was made regarding the Black Sea fleet.

Communications Cease.
Nov. 30.—3 p. m.—The imperial postoffice announces that all communications with Russia has been interrupted since noon.

PERMITTED "JOINTS" TO RUN.

Claimed County Attorney Was in League with Saloonists.

Topeka, Kans., Nov. 30.—C. C. Coleman, attorney general, has filed in the supreme court an amended petition in the ouster proceedings against James S. Gibson, the county attorney for Wyandotte county. As in the original petition, Mr. Coleman specifically charges Gibson with violating his oath of office by permitting the "joints" to run with his knowledge and consent. He alleges that Gibson demanded and received $5 from each "joint" keeper in the county as a bribe. These payments, it is asserted, were made as immunity from arrest and prosecution. But in this amended petition the attorney general says even the brewers were taxed $5 for each saloon owned and operated by them in the county, and that gamblers were allowed to run openly by paying a stipulated sum of money to Gibson quarterly.

The amended petition goes much further than the original in that it gives a list of "jointists" who, it is alleged, paid Mr. Gibson for immunity.

To Deal with England's Unemployed.

London, Nov. 30.—The names of the Royal company appointed to deal with the custom of unemployed of Great Britain by workings of the poor law, named by Mr. Balfour, the premier, and sanctioned by King Edward, were published yesterday. Lord George Hamilton, formerly secretary of state for India, is named as chairman of the commission which included the O'Connor, Sir Henry Augustus Robinson, vice president of the local government board for Ireland, the Hon. Charles Booth, of Liverpool, chairman of the Booth Steamship company, and Sir Samuel Butler Provis, second secretary of the government board. Three women are included among the 18 members of the commission.

Bonus Offered for Printers

New York, Nov. 30.—In anticipation of a general strike of the printers on Jan. 1, following the rejection of the demand of Typographical Union No. 6, for an eight-hour day, the New York Typothetae, the organization of employing printers, has sent out a circular to railroad agents throughout New York state offering a commission of $5 for every compositor who can be induced to come to New York and accept employment. The offer includes transportation to New York and the promise of steady employment. Enclosed was a form for the applicant to sign stating that he was not a member of any union.

Will Sue the Government.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 30.—A special to the Post-Intelligencer from Fairbanks, Alaska, states that three banks of that place will make claims against the government for gold dust which they shipped to the Seattle assay office on their own account and for miners in that district. The aggregate of these claims, it is estimated, will amount to about $15,000. Of this sum the Fairbanks banking company will handle the claim for $20,000, representing the sinkage alleged to have been reported on a series of large shipments last spring.

Vast Game Preserve.

Boise, Idaho, Nov. 30.—On December 15th a conference of game wardens of Idaho, Montana and Wyoming will be held at Butte. They will discuss plans for the creation of a vast game preserve in the Bitter Root mountains embracing some four million acres to be taken charge of by the United States government in connection with forest reserves. The warden of this state believes President Roosevelt will second the movement of this kind.

Cold Wave Headed South.

Washington, Nov. 30.—The first pronounced cold wave of the season will extend over the eastern part of the country tonight and Thursday with freezing temperature as far south as interior parts of the Gulf and south Atlantic states.

POLICY HOLDERS' POSITION BETTER

Thanksgiving Greeting Issued By Investigating Committee

URGED NOT TO LAPSE POLICIES

Chairman Armstrong Declares that the Policy Holders of the Life Insurance Companies Under Investigation Should Not Get Frightened.

New York, Nov. 30.—Senator Armstrong, chairman of the committee appointed by the New York legislature to investigate life insurance, issued a Thanksgiving greeting today to policyholders advising them not to lapse. The address follows:

"I am asked for a brief message to policyholders on the even of our adjournment for the month and am glad to make this suggestion:

"Do not allow your policies to lapse on account of anything revealed by this investigation."

"Policyholders are in a better position now than before the investigation began and their position ought to strongly improve as our inquiry proceeds."

"We will undoubtedly safeguard and strengthen the rights of policyholders but those who suffer their policies to lapse will lose the benefit of what has been done already as well as what we hope to accomplish."

"No sacrifice now ought to be made by policyholders, and patience and courage for a short time yet will not only prevent loss, but enable this committee to render the best service to the greatest number."

McCurdy's Resignation Accepted.

New York, Nov. 30.—The resignation of President Richard McCurdy, of the Mutual Life Insurance company, was accepted today by the board of trustees of that company. The resignation of Mr. McCurdy was presented to the board of trustees today. Frederick Cromwell, treasurer of the Mutual Life, was named by the trustees to act temporarily as president of the company. The resignation of Justice Rufus W. Peckham, as trustee of the Mutual, also was received by the board and was accepted.

Hamilton Is Located.

New York, Nov. 30.—Andrew Hamilton, to whom New York Life Insurance company has paid hundreds of thousands of dollars, charged to legal expenses, has been located in Paris. Jno. C. McCall, secretary of the New York Life and son of the president, testified today before the investigating committee and said it was his (McCall's) intention to call next Saturday to see Hamilton and induce him to return or if not, to give an accounting of the money. Mr. Hughes, counsel to the committee, asked Mr. McCall to get an order from Mr. Hamilton to his agents here to surrender Hamilton's papers, and Mr. McCall promised to do so.

Turkish Situation Unchanged.

Constantinople, Via Sofia, Bulgaria, Nov. 29.—The occupation of Mytilene by the allied forces has had no effect on the population of Constantinople which is celebrating the Bairam festival, but advices from Adrianople and Salonica report apprehensions of trouble in the event of the prolongation of the present situation. There has been an alarming increase in the number of murders of Bulgarians by Muslemen of the vilayet of Salonica during the last few days. The ambassadors are doubtful whether they will receive any further communication from the ports on the subject of the demands of the powers until the celebration of Bairam festivities are concluded.

Press Censorship Removed.

Tokio, Nov. 29.—3:30 p. m.—The restriction of martial law and the restrictions placed upon the liberties of the press, has been passed by the privy council and will be promulgated within a few days. The vital items of the negotiations between China and Japan have been practically settled.

NEWS UNNERVES PRISONER.

Mrs. Rogers Who Killed Her Husband Hears of Court's Decision.

Windsor, Ont., Nov. 30.—Despite the fact that the United States supreme court has declined to interfere in the case of Mary M. Rogers, under sentence of death for the murder of her husband, Marcus Rogers, another effort will be made to stay the execution, which is set for Friday, Dec. 8.

Attorney Flynn has informed the condemned woman that the supreme court of the United States had affirmed the decision of the Vermont courts and that all hope in that direction must be abandoned. He told her, however, that he had then in mind a plan which might prolong her life.

Mrs. Rogers was completely unnerved by the news of the adverse ruling, but said:

"While there is life there is hope; I'll take the chance you suggest."

Mr. Flynn declined to state in what manner he would proceed.

To Repeal Bankruptcy Laws.

Gainesville, Ga., Nov. 30.—Congressman Thomas M. Bell, the new member from the "bloody ninth," has left for Washington, accompanied by his wife, to assume the duties of his position upon the convening of the national congress next Monday. In vigorous health and the prime of manhood he is in position to render valuable service to his constituents. He assumes the responsibilities of the office with a full determination to give the people the very best service in his power, and those who have been familiar with the life and character of "Tom" Bell, as he is familiarly known, are sure that he will measure up to every requirement. He will introduce a bill to repeal bankruptcy laws.

Trackage Rights into New Orleans.

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 30.—C. W. Good year, of this city confirms the report that the New Orleans Great Northern, which is the Goodyear system in the south, is negotiating to enter New Orleans by trackage arrangements with the New Orleans and Great Northeastern. The New Orleans Great Northern was incorporated by Messrs. Good year to take over the Eastern Louisiana and build into the lumber tracts owned by the Great Southern Lumber company, of which the Messrs. Good year are also the owners. Mr. Good year added that the New Orleans Great Northern will eventually go to Jackson, Miss., but that there was nothing in the report that they would build northward through Tennessee.

Hill Denies Railroad Story.

New York, Nov. 30.—J. J. Hill took occasion before he left for the west yesterday to deny with emphasis that his recent trip to Europe was for the purpose of getting funds to buy the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railway as a gulf outlet to the Burlington railroad. Mr. Hill said that a trip to the moon was not more improbable. "They tell so many stories about my buying railroads that there is no use in denying them," he said. Mr. Hill said the report that President Elliott, of the Northern Pacific is to resign to become president of the Chicago Terminal railroad and is to be succeeded by Mr. Hill's son, J. M. Hill, is a stock broker's story.

Attempt to Kill Duchess.

Naples, Nov. 29.—Great excitement was caused here today by an attempt on the life of the Duchess of Aosta who is very popular. While the duchess was entering the royal palace at Capodimonte in an automobile a man about 40 years old picked up a stone intending apparently to throw it at the duchess but was prevented from so doing by a policeman who arrested him. The man, who has not yet been identified, avows that he did not intend to throw the stone, but picked it up to clear a way for the passage of the automobile.

Teamsters Back at Work.

New Orleans, Nov. 30.—Cotton is moving freely on the levee today. Of scores of the teamsters and loaders refused to sanction the strike against boss drayman, James Grant, because of his refusal to discharge a stable man and all the teamsters were ordered back to work.

SHIP IS WRECKED; NINE LIVES LOST

Desperate Efforts of Life Saving Crew to Save Men.

STORM RAGES ON GREAT LAKES

Reports from Many Sections Say that Numerous Ships Have Gone Down and that a Great Loss of Life Has Ensued—Worst Storm in Years.

Duluth, Minn., Nov. 30.—Nine dead, including the entire engineering crew of the boat, is the terrible result of the wreck of the steamer Mataafa at the mouth of the Duluth ship canal yesterday afternoon.

The names of those lost are:

William Most, chief engineer, of Cleveland, O.

Second Engineer Claude Farringer, of Cleveland, O.

James Early, of Buffalo.

William Gilechrist, oiler, of Winton, Ontario.

Carl Carlson, oiler, of Chicago.

Henry Wright, steward, of Cleveland.

Walter Bush, second cook, Amherstburg.

Fireman and deck hands, names not known.

From the time of the arrival of the life saving crew at 5 o'clock, desperate efforts were made to get a line to the boat, but without avail. In the presence of thousands of people who watched the scene breathlessly, the line was fired over the ship from the cannon three times. Once it caught and those on the forward end of the boat where it landed began to haul it in, but the rocks on the bottom cut it in two.

At midnight the officials of the company owning the boat advised the crew to give up until daylight, saying that the men of the forward part were safe enough until morning, and on the stern end not a sign of life could be detected since shortly after dark.

When the storm died out somewhat this morning the life saving crew was able to hit the boat and the work of bringing the crew ashore was begun at once.

In the forward end of the boat all were safe, but in the stern none was saved, all having succumbed to the cold. In the first boat load seven men were brought to shore and later eight more.

The saved ones include Captain R. F. Humble, and from him it was learned that not a sign had been heard by those forward from the rear end since early in the evening, and the death of all these was certain.

Ship Going to Pieces.

Superior, Wis., Nov. 29.—9 a. m.—The weather bureau, which can observe the Mataafa which went ashore yesterday says the vessel has begun to go to pieces. Some of the men have been landed.

Fear that Many Lives Are Lost.

Chicago, Nov. 30.—Twenty-six lives are feared to have been lost and nearly a score of vessels driven ashore by the hurricane that swept over the Great Lakes Monday night and yesterday. Six vessels are missing, and fears are entertained for their safety. The financial loss is estimated at possibly $2,000,000. No accurate figures of the loss of life are obtainable. With one exception the crews were removed from all the wrecks reported.

The exception is the wreck of the Pittsburgh Steamship company's ore carrier, the Mataafa, driven ashore near Duluth, Minn. On this vessel 26 men are reported to have perished.

The vessels lost are the Mataafa, the J. H. Outhwaite, the City of Holland and the Crescent City. The boats missing are:

The Angelina, the Panther, the Jan Mowatt, the Mohagan and the Mingo.

Want Russian Emigrants.

Victoria, B. C., Nov. 30.—According to advices received by the steamer Tye Mars, agents of Hawaiian planters are endeavoring to induce numbers of Russian prisoners in Japan to emigrate to Hawaii, offering them work on the sugar plantations.

CRUSHED UNDER A FREIGHT TRAIN

Sumner Langford Instantly Killed
at the Dutton Commissary.

HIS LEGS AND ONE ARM SEVERED

In Attempting to Board the Train He Made a Mistake, Falling Under the Car—His Entire Body Was Badly
Mangled.

Wade, Nov. 30.—Sumner Langford, about 20 years old, got run over and was literally ground to pieces yesterday morning on the Dutton Phosphate Company's railroad, at the Dutton commissary.

The train was moving up to the woodrack, a small distance from the commissary, and in trying to board it the unfortunate young man made a mistake and fell between the cars. Both legs and one arm were severed from the body, which was also badly mangled. He died instantly. He was a nephew of Frank and Lewis Langford and well liked by all.

WEST VIRGINIANS ARRIVE.

Party of Nine Came Tuesday and Are Now Pleasantly Located.

A party of West Virginians comprising Orval Watson, Mrs. Ella Watson, Miss Enola Watson, Harold Watson, John J. Cleaver, Mrs. Grace Cleaver and S. Ray Dill, all of Terre Alta and vicinity, have arrived in the city, and are pleasantly located at 512 West Main street N.

This party is here prospecting with a view of locating. There is already a large colony of West Virginians here, many of whom have purchased property and engaged in farming or business of some kind, and are well pleased.

A party of twenty-eight from the Terre Alta section left that place Tuesday night, and are expected here today. They are also homeseekers, and many of them may locate here permanently.

Double Tragedy in Tennessee.

Nashville, Nov. 30.—A Columbia, Tenn., dispatch says a double tragedy in which two close friends and neighbors, both of prominent families lost their lives, occurred near Rally Hill in Maury county. The dead men are Fred Early and Henry Colburn, the former having first murdered his friend and then killed himself. Both men were studying to become preachers, and Early's mind is known to have been dethroned. Early used a shotgun in his deadly work.

Secretary Root Busily Engaged.

Chicago, Nov. 30.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Washington says that Secretary Root's knife is busily engaged on chopping off the heads of diplomatic officers and consuls who are not efficient. It is estimated that fully 100 persons, who for various reasons, are unfit to represent the United States abroad, will be invited to tender their resignations. Bright American young men will be named in their stead.

Early Bargain Sales.

There were bargain sales even when this country was in its early youth, but most of the bargains offered were choice lots of slaves to be disposed of at the old slave mart that stood at the foot of Wall street. In the New York Gazette of Dec. 24, 1787, one of the large slave holders makes this announcement:

German Slaves For Sale.—To be disposed of, three German servants, one a baker by trade, one a butcher and the other a laborer. They are industrious, good men, whose honesty has been tried, and they may be had on reasonable terms. Inquire of the printer hereof.

No Middle Ground.

The proprietor of the dry goods store had proposed to the milliner who owned the establishment across the way.

"But, Mr. Wrappemup," she said, "I'm not sure that I like you well enough to marry you. Let us be merely friends, as heretofore."

"We can't, Miss Wribbens," he answered through his set teeth. "There is no friendship in trade. You will like me well enough to marry me or I'll add a millinery department to my stock!"—Chicago Tribune.

The Reason.

Magistrate—So you admit having been engaged in making counterfeit money? Prisoner—Yes, your honor. You see, the supply of the genuine article is so very short.

A Guaranteed Cure For Piles.

Itching, blind, bleeding, protruding piles. Druggists are authorized to refund money if FAZO OINTMENT fails to cure in 6 to 14 days. 50c.

TELLS BY THEIR SLEEP

"I can tell by my little ones' sleep when a cold is coming on" said a mother when speaking of the advance symptoms of colds in children. "They toss about, are restless, their breathing is heavy and there are symptoms of night sweats. The next morning I start with Scott's Emulsion. The chances are that in a day or two they are all over it. Their rest is again peaceful and the breathing normal."

Here's a suggestion for all mothers. Scott's Emulsion always has been almost magical in its action when used as the ounce of prevention. Nothing seems to overcome child weakness quite so effectively and quickly as Scott's Emulsion.

SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl St., New York.

WASHING CLOCK FACES.

Some Timepieces Grow Soiled More Quickly Than Others.

"I've been washing the faces of the city clocks high on to ten years, I guess," said a pleasant Scotch-Irish-American, "and before that I did it in the old country. There aren't many face washers in this land, and the few who know the business do well at it." He looked prosperous in his tweed suit and derby hat.

"Is your work anything like that of the steeple climber?" he was asked. "Bless you, no," he replied, with twinkling eye, much amused, "only in one thing, and that is that mostly sailors take up with the trade. That's because we're good climbers, you know. I've washed the faces of city and church clocks that were 180 feet from the ground, and it took me two and three weeks to do it. I'm a practical clock repairer, too—have to be, you know—and do my work in a huge wooden cradle made for the purpose. Some clocks get their faces dirty in a year or so; others remain clean ten years, and so on. Old Ben, Westminster's great clock, is expected to keep clean fifteen years.

"In the old days the trade was more dangerous. We used to work from scaffolds and got many dangerous falls. Now we have the cradles and all the fixings and comforts, and if a man keeps his head he can work as well as on the curb. How is the pay? Well, that's hard to figure, for we work by the job. We don't clean clock faces in winter, so we make enough in the summer to last the year round. Of course sometimes the clocks are taken out of their cases and repaired in the shops. Last year I cleared $2,000 and visited only two other cities, Chicago and Boston. This year I'll make more, because building operations have grimed the clocks and given our trade a lift."—New York Post.

The Word Derrick.

The word derrick for a machine used to lift heavy weights is curiously derived from a London bangman in the beginning of the seventeenth century whose name was Theodorick and who is often mentioned in old plays. "He rides circuit with the devil, and Derrick must be his host, and Tyborne the inn at which he will light" occurs in "The Bellman of London," published in 1616. The name thus corrupted came afterward to be applied, by an easy transition, to the gallows and later still to any frame or contrivance resembling it in shape.

A Fearful Fate.

It is a fearful fate to have to endure the terrible torture of piles. "I can truthfully say," writes Harry Colson of Masonville, Ia., "that for blind, bleeding, itching and protruding piles, Bucklen's Arnica Salve is the best cure made." Also best for cuts, burns and injuries. 25c at all druggists.

The Paris Jeweler.

"To stroll about the London streets," says Harper's Weekly, "is a pastime; in Paris it is also an education. I hardly understand how an Englishman after a walk down the Avenue de l'Opera or the Boulevard des Italiens can bear to even glance at a Bond street jeweler's. To see what the French are doing in jewel work of every kind is to make one feel that London is not merely a generation behind, but could not in a hundred centuries catch up."

The Song of the Hair

There are four verses. Verse 1. Ayer's Hair Vigor makes the hair grow. Verse 2. Ayer's Hair Vigor stops falling hair. Verse 3. Ayer's Hair Vigor cures dandruff. Verse 4. Ayer's Hair Vigor always restores color to gray hair. The chorus is sung by millions. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

ON DUTCH WATERS.

A Journey Along a Canal and the Scenery It Presents.

"I can think of no more reposeful holiday," says a writer, "than to step on board of one of those barges wedged together in a Rotterdam canal and, never lifting a finger to alter the natural course of events—to accelerate or divert—be carried by it to, say, Harlingen, in Friesland, between the meadows, under the noses of great black and white cows, past herons fishing in the rushes, through little villages with dazling milk cans being scoured on the banks and the good wives washing and the saturnaline smokers in black velvet slippers passing the time of day, through big towns, by rows of somber houses seen through a delicate screen of leaves, under low bridges crowded with children, through narrow locks, ever moving, moving, slowly and surely, sometimes sailing, sometimes being towed, with the wide Dutch sky overhead and the plovers crying in it, and the clean west wind driving the windmills, and everything just as it was in Rembrandt's day and just as it will be 500 years hence."

Furious Fighting.

"For seven years," writes Geo. W. Hoffman of Harper, Wash., "I had a bitter battle with chronic stomach and liver trouble, but at last I won, and cured my diseases by the use of Electric Bitters. I unhesitatingly recommend them to all, and don't intend in the future to be without them in the house. They are certainly a wonderful medicine, to have cured such a bad case as mine." Sold under guarantee to do the same for you, by all druggists at 50c a bottle. Try them today.

A Literary Coincidence.

"My father, W. Clark Russell," said Herbert Russell in telling of a literary coincidence, "had finished maturing the plot of his novel, 'The Death Ship,' which is a version of the legend of Vanderdecken. I was his amanuensis at the time. He said to me, 'Tomorrow we will begin the story.' On the following morning when I entered his study to take his dictation of the opening lines he showed me a letter he had just received. It was from W. S. Gilbert, the well known dramatist, asking him why he did not write a novel about the Flying Dutchman."

Funerals in the Highlands.

A Scottish correspondent writes of funerals in the highlands: "There are no undertakers here. A carpenter makes the simple coffin, relatives and friends carry it, hip high, to its last resting place, which is dug when the end of the journey is reached, and, having walked perhaps six miles to the chosen kirkyard, they take a refreshment of sandwiches and whisky and walk home again. The rigorous absence of pomp is maintained, but there is the added embellishment of pipe music."

Get Near to Them.

An English druggist gives the following list of blunders made by his poorer customers: "Catch an eel" for cochineal; "prosperous paste" for phosphorus paste; "grease it" for creosote; "fishy water" for vichy water; "guitar" for catarrh; "everlasting" for effervescing.

In Mad Chase.

Millions rush in mad chase after health, from one extreme of faddism to another, when, if they could only eat good food, and keep their bowels regular with Dr. King's New Life Pills, their troubles would all pass away. Prompt relief and quick cure for liver and stomach trouble. 25c at all drug stores; guaranteed.

The First Word.

"But," said the judge, "you provoked the fight."
"No, O! didn't," replied the prisoner.
"But you struck the first blow. Why did you do that?"
"Because he said to me, 'If O!m wan, ye're another,' and so I soaked him."—Philadelphia Press.

Too Polite.

"Your father is certainly the politest man I know."
"What makes you say that?"
"He's pretending that he's cured of his dyspepsia in order that he shall not hurt his doctor's feelings."—New Yorker.

Heart Fluttering.

Undigested food and gas in the stomach, located just below the heart, presses against it and causes heart palpitation. When your heart troubles you in that way take Herbine for a few days. You will soon be all right. 50c a bottle. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

Coughing Spell Caused Death.

Harry Duckwell, aged 25 years, died at his home in the presence of his wife and child. He contracted a slight cold a few days ago and paid but little attention to it. Yesterday morning he was seized with a fit of coughing which continued for some time. His wife sent for a physician, but before he could arrive another coughing fit came on and Duckwell died from exhaustion.—St. Louis Globe Democrat, December 1st, 1901. Ballard's Cough Syrup would have saved him. 25c, 50c and $1. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

Negro Shot Self 38 Times.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 30.—Jake Scott, a negro, shot and mortally wounded himself in the forehead of the tunnel gang on the Southern railway extension work near this town and French Lick, Ind., yesterday evening. A posse, composed of workmen associated with Walls, Ind., and returned to town with the information that the body of the negro had been found in the woods where he had committed suicide. The body was found at the place where the workmen. There was no wound in the body.

Wanted to Become Japs.

San Francisco, B. C. Nov. 30.—Failing to obtain citizenship when released, Russian and Jewa captured by the Japanese when fighting for Russia are here yesterday by the steamer "Mikasa." The Poles, who arrived here yesterday, were offered $12,000 of the Russian prize money for Japanese citizenship. They refused, preferring to remain in the hands of the Japanese government to naturalize them.

Cured Paralysis.

Bally, F. O. True, Texas. "My wife had been suffering with paralysis in her arm, and was persuaded to use Ballard's Cough Syrup, which cured her almost immediately. I have also used it for colds, coughs and skin eruptions. It is a work." Sold by W. M. Johnson.

A REGULAR CIRCUS

Trying to Give a Little Girl Cod Liver Oil.

An interesting incident was told in W. M. Johnson's drug store the other evening.

A man came in and bought a bottle of Vinol and while waiting for change engaged the clerk in conversation.

Said he: "We were told to give our little girl cod liver oil. I bought a bottle and took it home. We had a regular circus trying to get the child to take it. Then it did not agree with her at all, the oil upset her stomach. She did not get any better, so I told the doctor how we had failed and he at once recommended your Vinol, saying that it contained all of the curative, healing and strengthening properties of cod liver oil without a drop of oil, and the children all love its taste."

"I took home a bottle and we began to give it to our child right away. She said it was delicious and wanted more. Almost from the first dose we noticed a change, and she has gained flesh, strength and appetite and sleeps well every night."

"I don't believe anyone should give a delicate child old-fashioned, nauseating cod liver oil or emulsions when Vinol is so delicious, and it will do so much more good than any other tonic. It is simply a wonderful medicine for weak, puny children, and I am recommending it to my friends."

We guarantee Vinol will make weak, puny children strong, robust and rosy, strengthen and invigorate old people and build up the run-down, tired and debilitated as nothing else can. If it fails we willingly return every dollar paid for it. W. M. Johnson, Druggist.

"BLACK HAND" IN GEORGIA.

Citizens of Laurens County Severely Whipped Negroes.

Dublin, Ga., Nov. 20.—J. C. Cristian, a barber, and Will Bethea, a laborer, were severely whipped last night by citizens of Dublin and run from the county.

The negroes confessed to being members of a "Black Hand" society, which had sent threatening letters to Chief of Police J. L. Cowart. They also confessed to having sent a very insulting and obscene letter to G. W. Williams, a member of the legislature, from Laurens. This letter was sent to Atlanta, and was mailed there.

They implicated Will Ansley and C. C. Wilson, two negro barbers. Ansley is in jail, but Wilson made his escape. It is not believed that there will be any serious trouble. The barbers have heretofore borne good reputations, and there is great surprise that they should be guilty of such conduct.

Chief Cowart received two of the letters, one after Cristian had been whipped. In the letters all of the policemen and Alderman N. M. Moore were threatened.

LaGrippe and Pneumonia.

Pneumonia often follows lagrippe, but never follows the use of Foley's Honey and Tar. It cures lagrippe, coughs and prevents pneumonia and consumption. Ask for Foley's Honey and Tar and refuse any substitute offered. Mr. G. Vacher, 187 Osgood street, Chicago, writes: "My wife had a severe case of lagrippe three years ago and it left her with a terrible cough. She tried a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar and it gave immediate relief. A 50-cent bottle cured her cough entirely." Refuse substitutes. J. W. McCollum & Company.

DARING OF LIONS.

Incidents to Prove That the Brutes Are Not Cowardly.

It has been said many times that lions are cowardly brutes, but of the many lions with which I have had personal dealings, expected and unexpected, the epithet cowardly is the last I should consider appropriate in describing them. I have been charged by a lion, and he certainly did not look cowardly. I have come face to face, at a distance of some twenty feet, with a family party of half a dozen, fortunately full fed. They stood, with quiet dignity, looking at us, and then slowly moved away, stopping every few yards to stand and look again. There was neither fear nor meanness in their appearance or behavior.

I have seen lions stalking game, and I have myself been stalked by them. If I could have encouraged myself with the conviction of their cowardliness when I was the quarry and they the hunters, it would have put a different aspect on the situation. We were at this time living in a station over seventy miles from the nearest connecting link with the outside world, and when man eating lions took possession of the one road which led to this link things became serious.

A large troop was reported, and the natives maintained that this troop ran along in the grass parallel with the caravan road (a path some ten inches wide), and, having selected the most edible member of the caravan, jumped upon him like a flash, and, seizing him, disappeared as quickly as they came.

Our mail runners, attached to whom were a couple of native police armed with rifles, were several times attacked. Finally, as the mail party was camping one night, fortunately for it, with a native caravan, the lions became so bold that, in spite of fires, they sprang upon a native and carried him off into the bush.—Mrs. S. L. Hinde in Blackwood's Magazine.

Remarkable Cure.

"I was much afflicted with sciatica," writes Ed C. Nud, Iowaville, Sedgwick Co., Kan., "going about on crutches and suffering a deal of pain. I was induced to try Ballard's Snow Liniment, which relieved me. I used three 50c bottles. It is the greatest liniment I ever used. Have recommended it to a number of persons. All express themselves as being benefited by it. I now walk without crutches, able to perform a great deal of light labor on the farm." 25c, 50c and $1.—Sold by W. M. Johnson.

Nature.

There are no genuine native words in the Japanese language to correspond with our words "nature" and "art." Professor Basil Hall Chamberlain, for a score of years professor of Japanese in the Imperial university at Tokyo, regards the absence of the word "art" as a weakness. He thinks the absence of a word for "nature" may be quite the opposite. "Nature" he regards as a Proteus, at times a delusive synonym or euphemism for the Creator, at other times the beings or things created, or the universe with man left out, or the impulses of man as opposed to his conscious acts, or that which is reasonable and proper, or, again, with theologians exactly the opposite. "In short," says the professor, "the word 'nature' stands for everything in general and for nothing in particular, impossible to define and serving only as a will-o'-the-wisp to mislead metaphysically minded persons." Impressions Quarterly.

Doctors Could Not Help Her.

"I had kidney trouble for years," writes Mrs. Raymond Conner of Shelton, Wash., "and the doctors could not help me. I tried Foley's Kidney Cure and the very first dose gave me relief and I am now cured. I cannot say too much for Foley's Kidney Cure." It makes the diseased kidneys sound so they will eliminate the poisons from the blood. Unless they do this good health is impossible. J. W. McCollum & Co.

The London Police.

When the scheme was first broached fierce opposition developed to the establishment of London's metropolitan police, in September, 1829. Police to patrol the streets of London? Such a scheme was "repugnant to the spirit of English law and to the theory of free government," according to an editorial in the Standard of the day. "As a system of clandestine intelligence the thing is complete," it went on. "The low constable is instructed to make himself acquainted with the inhabitants of every house within his beat. And how is this information to be obtained but by the pumping of the servants?"

The Requisite of Beauty.

The first requisite of beauty is a clear complexion. Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup clears a sallow, blotched complexion, as it stimulates the liver and bowels, and the eyes become bright and clear. You owe it to your friends to take it if your complexion is bad. Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup does not nauseate or grip and it is very pleasant to take. Refuse substitutes. J. W. McCollum & Company.

By increasing her navy Germany is of the opinion she will create more of an impression in the coming peace conference.

Henry Watterson has been an honest editor so long that he just declares that he could never come down to holding a public office.

Perhaps President Roosevelt thought he would tackle the football players before he undertook the management of the next Senate.

At the cotton growers' meeting held in Lake City on Tuesday there was a very enthusiastic crowd present and 69 names were subscribed to the list of members.

It is thought that John D. Rockefeller knows something about life insurance business, but it can't be possible or Miss Ida Tarbell would have had a story about it long ago.

It is really too bad that the foreign counts act so about their family affairs that their American heiresses can't live with them. The papas will have to raise the yearly stipend in order to have complete harmony.

An Irishman who was congratulating himself on the advancement the Church of Rome was making in this country, remarked as he received the Australian ballot to cast his vote: "Bedad, every voter must now make the sign of the cross."

The New York World mentions as a mere coincidence that on November 30, 1904, when Governor Odell abandoned his opposition to Senator De-pew's re-election, he received $75,000 in settlement of his claim against the Mercantile Trust Company, an ally of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, of which Mr. De-pew was director and legal counselor. Malicious people put this and that together and draw their own conclusions.

Many papers are warning the people to take great care and send only the best and ablest men to the Legislature at the next election, so it will make no difference with the ones who are chosen—whether they are good, bad or indifferent—they will know if they are elected that they are supposed to be the best and will no doubt change the laws to conform with the constitution. The ablest legislators, however, will find that their best efforts will not be flawless, and if they undertake to please the chronic kickers they will fall decidedly short of the mark.

The people of Pensacola have again resumed business at the old stand, after a desperate struggle with Yellow Jack and a few days ago a British vessel left that port with a cargo of 10,000 bales of cotton for Bremen. The cargo was valued at $600,000 and that port was now again resume her active export business. There is no use trying to impede the progress of a pushing business community and the yellow peril has only retarded the rush for a time, which will now be resumed with renewed vigor. We most heartily wish the city on the gulf abundant prosperity.

SUNSTROKES.

The man who is brilliant without being showy will generally attract the attention of someone who is casting about some glittering effulgence.

In spite of the fact that Russia loses confidence in the army, Korea bucks at control of Japs, the red flag appears in a parade in Vienna, and the votes are ready to abolish football at the New York University, Uncle Dick McCurdy refuses to relinquish his grip on the presidency of the Mutual and the fat salary.

Ocala was afraid their water supply would be cut off, hence they prepared for the emergency at Tuesday's election.

The only trouble we notice in pistol fights is that if the contestants would only keep away from the crowd no one would get hurt.

When you go to the opera house with your best girl, and you don't know enough to talk about the weather, keep up a constant kicking of the chair in front of you. It is always enjoyed by the person who occupies it.

The coming message of President Roosevelt may not have a word to say about corporations contributing to the campaign funds. He "covered" that during the last campaign to the satisfaction of his party, at least.

The saying that "Public office is a public trust," has now got so mixed up that public officers are all of the opinion that they are in the trust.

Man's Skull Fractured.
New York, Nov. 30.—Walter J. Jarvis, clerk at the Chelsea hotel, was found in his bachelor apartments in West Twenty-first street last night with a fractured skull, and was taken to St. Vincent's hospital in a serious condition. He had visited friends on Monday night at the Hotel Maryland. He left them shortly before midnight and retired to his apartments. When found his door was locked on the inside and he was fully dressed in evening clothes. It is not known whether he was robbed. At the hospital he was still unconscious this morning. Mr. Jarvis' parents are said to reside in Charleston, S. C.

Minister Squiera Resigns.
Havana, Nov. 30.—The American minister, Herbert G. Squiera, has cabled his resignation to Washington. The minister declined to be interviewed on the subject, but it can be ascertained that the Cuban government cabled a message of complaint to Washington against Mr. Squiera's attitude on the Isle of Pines question following his persistent opposition to the Anglo-Cuban treaty which the Cubans have chosen to consider unreasonable. On the receipt of Secretary Root's message with reference to the complaint Mr. Squiera immediately cabled his resignation.

$100,000 Fire in San Francisco.
San Francisco, Nov. 30.—Fire early today destroyed the cigar box manufacturing establishment of Ellis and Gaudine at 224 Fremont street, the Union Iron Works, Reliance Engine company and the Jardine Machine Works. Heavy loss was also sustained by the V. Kingwell Brass Foundry and the Betts Printing company. The losses amount to $100,000. Most of the property is insured.

Cotton Growers Organizing.
Lake City, Fla., Nov. 30.—President Harvie Jordan, of the Sea Island Cotton association, addressed a large meeting of growers here, when Columbia county farmers organized with practically every farm represented. Secretary Schell reports seven out of the fourteen counties in this state which grow sea island cotton, organized and that the remaining counties in Georgia and Florida will be organized within the next two weeks.

Tom Hood's Test.
The following story is one which Tom Hood was rather fond of relating. He was once asked to contribute to a new journal, not exactly gratuitously, but at a small advance upon nothing. He accepted the terms conditionally—that is to say, provided the principle could be properly carried out.

Accordingly he wrote to his butcher, baker and other tradesmen, informing them that it was necessary for the sake of cheap literature and the interest of the reading public that they should in future furnish him with their several commodities at a trifling percentage above cost price.

It will be sufficient to quote the answer of the butcher:

Sir—Respecting your note, cheap literature be blowed! Butchers must live as other people, and if so be you or the reader in public wants to have meat at prime cost you must buy your own beasts and kill yourselves. I remain, etc.,

When the Ostrich Hurries.
Two feet is the usual stride of an ostrich when it walks, but when the bird is alarmed and commences to run it exchanges its mincing stride for fourteen foot steps, which easily carry it over the ground at a rate of twenty-five miles an hour. Ordinarily an ostrich makes no effort to profit by its length of legs, and many birds with legs less than a quarter as long habitually use a three and four foot stride, for it seems to be one of the rules of nature that birds like ostriches, flamingoes and cranes extend their stride only when alarmed. The ostrich when it runs takes both feet off the ground at every stride, its progress being made by means of a series of jumps so rapidly performed as to leave the observer under the impression that one foot remains on the ground until the other is placed.

The First Newspaper.
The honor of having produced the first newspaper has long been disputed by Italy, France, Germany, England and Holland, and for years the British museum exhibited a paper called the English Mercury, said to have been printed in 1588, but which proved to be a practical joke of Lord Hardwicke. As the first German paper only appeared in 1615, in Frankfurt; the first Dutch paper in 1617, the first English paper, the Weekly Gazette, in 1622 and the first French paper in 1631, the priority of Antwerp in the field now seems to be established by exhaustive researches, which show beyond a doubt that the printer Abraham Verhoeven of Antwerp obtained in 1605 from the Archduke and Duchess Albert and Isabelle the privilege of printing the first regular newspaper.

Some of the carpenters who went to Panama from this State send back word that everything is not as lovely as it might be, and advise their brethren to not be in any hurry about going there.

The fish shipping business at Miami is now at its height. The several companies have shipped 65,000 tons of Spanish mackerel by freight, while several thousand barrels were sent by express, all within the past twenty-four hours.

An old negro named Bird was killed by a switch engine at Grand Crossing, about six miles from Jacksonville, today. He was driving across the track when the engine struck his wagon and smashed it into kindling wood. The old man died in a few minutes.

The people of Miami are getting tired of the traps that are to be laid about that city, who are waiting on the new railroad project. As Miami will be the terminus of the route, they will find themselves supplied with this class for years to come.

Ask Injunction Against Railroad. St. Louis, Nov. 30.—Acting on the United States government the federal district attorney, Mr. Dyer, today filed petition in the United States circuit court for an injunction to prevent the construction of a railroad at St. Louis from violating an alleged violation of the federal laws. The allegations are that the terminal railroad association has destroyed trade and commerce and worked incalculable injury to the shipping interests of the Mississippi valley, and its dissolution is needed.

HAIR TELLS CHARACTER.

of Hair Said to Indicate a Person's Temperament.

Many people believe that blonde, or fair hair denotes affection and dark hair, sternness. A person without hair is devoid of character; far from it. Disposition of the average bald man is to show such solicitude for his hair that he neglects his health. A germ causes baldness. Chabrouard, of Paris, France, invented a rabbit with Dandruff germs, and it became totally bald in five days. To rid the scalp of these germs it is necessary to apply the Herpicide.

For the cure—you remove the dandruff leading druggists. Send for a sample to The Herpicide Co., 100 N. 3rd St., St. Louis, Mo. Sold by J. C. & Co., Special Agents.

WONDERFUL CURE OF SORE HANDS

By Cuticura After the Most Awful Suffering Ever Experienced

EIGHT DOCTORS

And Many Remedies Failed to do a Cent's Worth of Good

"I was troubled with sore hands, so sore that when I would put them in water the pain would nearly set me crazy, the skin would peel off and the flesh would get hard and break. There would be blood flowing from at least fifty places on each hand. Words could never tell the suffering I endured for three years. I tried everything, but could get no relief. I tried at least eight different doctors, but none did me any good, as my hands were as bad when I got through doctoring as when I began. I also tried many remedies, but none of them ever did me one cent's worth of good. I was discouraged and heart-sore. I would feel so bad mornings, to think I had to go to work and stand the pain for ten hours, I often felt like giving up my position. Before I started to work I would have to wrap every finger up separately, so as to try and keep them soft, and then wear gloves over the rags to keep the grease from getting on my work. At night I would have to wear gloves; in fact, I had to wear gloves all the time. But thanks to Cuticura, that is all over now.

CURED FOR 50c.

"After doctoring for three years, and spending much money, a 50c. box of Cuticura Ointment ended all my sufferings. It's been two years since I used any, and I don't know what sore hands are now, and never lost a day's work while using Cuticura Ointment."

THOMAS A. CLANCY, 310 N. Montgomery St., Trenton, N. J. Sold throughout the world. Cuticura Remedies, etc. (In form of Chocolate Coated Pills, 50c. per box of 50). Ointment, 50c. Soap, 50c. Putney Drug & Chem. Corp., Boston, Sole Proprietors. Send for "The Great Skin Book."

SAVED GOVERNMENT MONEY.

Captain Carter Claims He Was of Great Service to County.

Chicago, Nov. 30.—Oberlin M. Carter, former army officer, who is now defending himself against charges of defrauding the government out of millions of dollars, testified before Special Examiner Burgoyne that he had many times saved the government thousands of dollars in letting contracts at Savannah.

Carter in his testimony declared that in letting one contract to Green and Gaynor, the firm insisted upon by him saved the government $275,000. Carter produced evidence purporting to substantiate this declaration.

He also declared that the trouble into which he became involved was started by an army officer, who, he asserted, is even now stirring up trouble among army officers in Philadelphia. Carter declared that this man endeavored to force a new scheme for construction upon the government, and that he (Carter) refused to approve it.

Stop Building of Railroad.

Columbus, Ga., Nov. 30.—Upon petition of Thomas A. Whitaker, of Hamlet, N. C., as administrator, Judge Newman in the United States court, has granted a temporary injunction restraining the Atlanta, Birmingham, and Atlantic railway from building its proposed road across and near the plaintiff's property, in the town of LaGrange, Ga. The case will be heard by Judge Newman Dec. 2, in Atlanta. Other property owners in LaGrange, who opposed the building of that road through certain property, sought for relief in the state courts, but did not get it. The right of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad to condemn certain property near the Atlanta and West Point depot in LaGrange was questioned by the Atlanta and West Point, but when the case was carried to the Georgia supreme court recently, it was decided in favor of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad.

Stabbed Comrade in Fun.

Savannah, Ga., Nov. 29.—While Fred Slater and Malcolm Hutton, two high school boys, were standing in line at that institution, Slater being behind Hutton, Slater was suddenly seized with an irresistible impulse to stick a knife he was holding in his hand into the back of Hutton. As Slater expressed it, he "wanted to see him jump." Slater's desire was gratified, but now he is the most miserable boy in Savannah, for it is said that Hutton may die of the wound inflicted. The knife blade entered just above the kidneys. Doctors attending Hutton say they do not know what the result will be. The impulsive young Slater has not been arrested.

THE ANCIENT FESTIVALS AND THEIR STRANGE CEREMONIES.

A Peculiar One That Commemorates the Flight into Egypt—Twelfth Day and Plow Monday Celebrations in England.

England has had her miracle plays very early times, and many of them, intended to impress Scriptural scenes on the minds of the ignorant masses, were no doubt absurd and different enough to our modern ideas. One of them, one thinks, can have been in grossness the Festival of the Ass, which was instituted by the March Theophylact of Constantinople in commemoration of the flight into Egypt.

Every year on Jan. 14 an ass, on which a beautiful girl with a baby in her arms was seated, after having been led in solemn procession through the city, was taken into the church and placed near the high altar while the service was performed; but instead of the usual responses the people prayed as loudly as they could. A man in praise of the ass was also present, the congregation joining as loudly as they could in the hee haw chorus. A hymn is written in a strange mixture of French and mediaeval Latin and consists of nine verses and a chorus. It has been translated, and we give three of the verses so as to give the idea of its absurdity:

From the country of the east
Came this strong and handsome beast,
His able ass, beyond compare,
Heavy loads and packs to bear.
Now, seignior ass, a noble bray;
Thy beauteous mouth at large display.
Abundant food our haylofts yield,
And oats abundant load the field.
Hee haw! Hee haw! Hee haw!

True it is his pace is slow
All he feels the quickened blow,
All he feels the urging goad
In his hinder part bestowed.
Now, seignior ass, etc.

With your belly full of grain,
Bray, most honored ass, amen!
Bray out loudly, bray again;
Never mind the old amen!
Without ceasing bray again,
Amen! Amen! Amen! Amen!
Hee haw! Hee haw! Hee haw!

The due observance of many of the ceremonies was often made the occasion if not for what could, strictly speaking, be called a pageant, yet at least for a festive gathering of the whole neighborhood. The first known mention of the Dunmow flitch of bacon is to two people who would make a bet that they had been married a year and a day and had never repented their choice, never had a quarrel and, free to be married again, would choose the same person, appears in a story, where it is spoken of in the prologue to the "Wife of Bath's Tale" of an already well known institution.

There are many other old English customs partaking of the nature of and of rude, rustic pageant, which in the decay of farming seem to be dying out. Such are the Twelfth Day celebrations of Herefordshire, Gloucestershire and the eastern counties and the Festival of Plow Monday, which was formerly held the first day of plowing was to recommence after Christmas holidays.

Plow Monday was always the first day after Twelfth day and is a very ancient festival. Before the reformation the plowmen used to go to house to house collecting money to purchase candles to burn before certain of the statues in the churches with a view to obtaining a blessing on their crops. The reformation, we are told, put out the lights, but could not extinguish the festival. The plowmen put on their clean white shirts and their jackets and bedizened themselves and their plows with ribbons, as they had formerly done, but now, instead of buying plow lights, as they were called, they purchased beer and on the day in riotous conviviality at the public house.

A Lincolnshire man, who says that he has himself blown the horn at many of these rustic celebrations, tells us that the plow is decorated and the plowmen, the thrashers, the reapers and the carters gathered from a hamlet round, attired either in smock frocks or in grotesque costumes go about to the various houses of the locality singing and dancing and forgetting to shake in a suggestive manner the money box, which is usually carried by a man called Bessy, dressed with long ringlets and petticoats over his worsted stockings and boots.—Macmillan's Magazine.

Swordless.
"I said the condescending youth, who was taking fencing lessons."
"No," answered Farmer Cornfoot, "I allude to you who were going to turn out to do something useful. What's your hobby going to be—rally, stone or wire?"—Washington Star.

Same Old Story.
"When he pay his alimony promptly?"
"He has to be urged and threatened every payday, but then, of course, I get used to that when we are living together."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

TRAFALGAR.

The Swiftmess of Action of This Great Naval Battle.

The world will see other sea fights, but never one like this, so close, so swift and with so much in it of the personal element. And what may be called the pace of the battle, the swiftmess with which incident follows incident, is almost without a parallel in the history of war. The first gun was fired at 12:15; at 12:22, or only seven minutes after the French guns opened on him, Collingwood, with the British ships nearest to him, was through the enemy's line.

Only one brief minute later, or at 12:23 by the log of the Euryalus, Nelson is in the fight, and is pouring his first dreadful broadside into the stern of Villeneuve's flagship. Two minutes later the French and Spanish topmasts begin to fall. At 1:32, or sixty-seven minutes after the first gun was fired, Blackwood reports "the center and rear of enemy's line to be hard pressed in action." The fate of the battle is practically settled. Already some of the enemy's ships have struck. The swift moments run on, and the pulses of the great fight keep time with them. The advantage is not all on one side.

At 2:30, for example, or less than two hours from the moment when, a shape of majestic pride, the Royal Sovereign moved into the zone of the enemy's fire, she lies a mastless and helpless hulk. She has done her work, but she has paid a terrible price for it. There is at this moment a flutter of flags on the masthead of the Victory, for Nelson has a great captain's watchful vision, and a frigate—it is the Euryalus—comes down with every inch of canvas set, groping her way through the smoke, to take the battered hull of the Royal Sovereign in tow, so that her broadsides—the mighty ship can still fight, though she cannot sail—bear upon the enemy's ships within her reach.

This is not a battle spread through days. It is compressed almost into minutes. The first shot was fired at 12:15; before 3 o'clock flag after flag is going down; a great fleet is crumbling into ruin. By 5:30 o'clock all is over.—Cornhill Magazine.

FINGERS AND FORKS.

Never use a fork when taking a piece of bread.

Avoid using a spoon for anything that is not liquid.

Pastry should be eaten with a fork; also ice cream where the proper forks are served.

It is permissible to eat celery, corn, asparagus, water cress and undressed salad with the fingers.

Olives should be lifted from the dish with the olive fork or spoon, but should be eaten from the fingers.

Lemon is often served with fish and pancakes. The lemon should be taken in the fingers and squeezed upon the viands.

If cut sugar is served and there are no sugar tongs in the bowl, lift the pieces out as delicately as possible with the tips of the fingers.—New York Press.

Composite Pronouns Wanted.

The want of a composite pronoun to express both "he" and "she," and what is sometimes more important, to express neither he nor she, must have embarrassed every one at some time or another. There are ungrammatical ways of shewing the difficulty, such as, for instance, by translating the convenient French "on" as "they," when we really mean one person who may be either masculine or feminine. The lack of a portmanteau word to express both sexes without specifying either did not, however, trouble the new maid who approached her mistress with the ingenious remark, "Please'm, a friend of mine has called—and may I ask it to tea?"—London Chronicle.

A Point in Punctuation.

For a century past, probably longer, the rule of the best printers and publishers has been, "Three words in the same construction are separated by commas." Two examples will illustrate the rule:

"John, James and Thomas have come."
As so punctuated the first name is vocative, the second and third nominative. Two persons have come.

"John, James, and Thomas have come."
And now the three names are all nominatives. Three persons have come. The two meanings can be indicated otherwise only by a footnote.—New York Times.

A Stubborn Opening.

The head of the household was going through her husband's pockets the next morning.

"What kept you out so late last night?" she suddenly demanded.

"It was the opening of the campaign, my dear," the lower half replied.

"Well, it didn't take three corkscrows to open it, did it?"

And she drew the offending articles from his side pocket and waved them before him.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Try It.

"Don't you smell fire?"

"No, I don't think I do."

"I don't either, but most people do if you ask them."

For the first time in its history Gainesville now boasts of a female dentist in the person of Dr. Mace Bean, a graduate of the Northwestern University of Chicago, who is assisting Dr. Alderman. Dr. Bean comes highly recommended, and will no doubt make herself popular in the profession here.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOL.

University Graded and High School Enjoying a Fine Term.

The University Graded and High School now has an enrollment of four hundred and sixty-nine, which is the highest enrollment in the history of the public school system of Gainesville.

The work being done at this term is also superior to former years, since the studies in various branches are more diversified, and a high school department has been added.

In speaking of the school Wednesday, Prof. W. N. Sheats, the principal, stated that he felt gratified at the success of the institution. There are twelve departments, and he is operating the school with a teacher for each department, although he declares that number is hardly sufficient. Each department is in a congested condition, owing to lack of room, but under the circumstances everything is moving nicely.

There is no doubt but that the University Graded and High School is one of the best public institutions of its kind in the South, and has done a great deal towards advertising this city to the outside world.

Failed.

All efforts have failed to find a better remedy for coughs, colds and lung troubles than Foley's Honey and Tar. It stops the cough, heals the lungs and prevents serious results from a cold. J. N. Patterson, Nashua, Iowa, writes: "Last winter I had a bad cold on my lungs and tried at least half a dozen advertised cough medicines and had treatment from two physicians without getting any benefit. A friend recommended Foley's Honey and Tar and two-thirds of a bottle cured me. I consider it the greatest cough and lung medicine in the world." J. W. McCollum & Company.
